

I purchased an XM satellite radio system earlier this year as a direct response to Howard Stern being pulled off of the air in my market. I have also endured Opie and Anthony being taken off of the air almost 3 years ago due to political correctness, again. I purchased XM because this was a satellite system and was not censored, for the most part. There should be an outlet where people like myself can go to get uncensored comedy, Weather and Traffic, and the other types of programming that are offered by Satellite Radio. I refuse to listen to conventional radio because of the censorship and political correctness that covers that broadcast medium.
Leave Satellite radio alone.

Respectfully submitted,
Michael P. Strobel